

Welcome to mClk!

Your instructor has elected to use mClk in your classroom. This tool transforms your classroom into an environment where your cell phone becomes part of the class! You can use the text messaging tool on your phone to respond to questions posted by your instructor.

To set up your phone to use mClk

1. Your instructor will provide you with a keyword (see italics below).
2. Send a text message to short code 29671.
3. Content of message must be: "start keyword last name" (example: start ucla Smith).
4. A confirmation text message will be sent to your phone.

To use mClk in class

1. On the first mClk question, send a text message to short code 29671 with the message "join" and the session ID that is posted on the screen (example: join 266).
2. To answer each question, text the question number and your answer to 29671 (example: 1 C).
3. Your response is added to those of your classmates and results are projected on the screen.

At the end of the semester or quarter

1. Send a text message to short code 29671 with the message "stop."
